

ABSTRACT

A emergency power management system utilizing at least two power sources and electronic systems to monitor for emergency situations and respond to said emergency situations.